

Farmington Public Schools' Superintendent Susan H. Zurvalec will be part of WDET's Back to School series

Farmington, Michigan — On Tuesday, August 30, Superintendent of Farmington Public Schools, Susan H. Zurvalec, will take part in the The Craig Fahle show on WDET (101.9 FM) radio. With a new school year on the horizon, this show will feature a series of Back to School interviews with school superintendents from the metropolitan area. Zurvalec will be interviewed live on air at 10:06 a.m. The superintendent will answer questions about Farmington Public Schools and the challenges the District faces, followed by phone-in questions to 313-577-1019. This will be an opportunity for parents, students and teachers in the District, to ask questions and voice concerns and ideas.

The Craig Fahle show airs Monday-Thursday from 10 a.m. – Noon with a rebroadcast from 7 p.m. – 9 p.m., and Fridays from 10 a.m. – 11:30 a.m. Host Craig Fahle talks with the newsmakers, people making a difference in our community, and WDET listeners.

Zurvalec will be one of four superintendents this week to be interviewed in the metro area. On Wednesday, August 31, at 10 a.m. Thomas Harwood of Grosse Pointe Schools will be interviewed, followed by Michael Simeck of Berkley Schools on Thursday, August 25 at 10 a.m. and Ronald Roberts of Chippewa Valley Schools, on Thursday September 1 at 10 a.m.
